

Captain Samuel David Corry, R.A.M.C. and No.3 Commando.
Died of wounds 19 August 1942. Remembered with honour

MISSING IN THE DIEPPE RAID.
ULSTERMEN IN LIST.
CAPT. CORRY'S RECORD.

News has been received by relatives of men who have been reported missing from the Dieppe raid.

Capt. Corry.

Capt. Samuel D. Corry, R.A.M.C., one of those who did not return, is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Corry, Victoria Avenue, Newtownards.

Capt. Corry volunteered before the outbreak of war and was called for service soon after hostilities commenced. He was medical officer with the Special Service Battalion that made the raid on the Norwegian coast about a year ago, and he was mentioned in despatches for distinguished service in that exploit. He has taken part in several raids since then while serving with the Commandos.

Capt. Corry is a well-known Rugby player and was with the Queen's University and North of Ireland teams. He also got his place in several Ulster sides. He was interested in boxing and was at one time light heavyweight champion at Queen's. His younger brother is serving with the Royal Artillery.

Before joining the Army Capt. Corry was for about two years on the medical staff of Down Infirmary.